What's New In SplViewer?

SplexViewer is a viewer for spool files - files (SPLs) of documents that a printing system creates when it is busy processing a print job. This is the same content as the paper tray is full of. These files are created by the printer when the printer is printing documents. It can display the entire document or selected text or an image. You can use the mouse or the keyboard to navigate the document. SplViewer has the following features:

- * View spool files.
- * View spool files without opening them.
- * Extract data from spool files to Microsoft Word, Excel or other EMF format files.
- * Display text on-screen using a text editor - you can even change the font and font size. * Convert images and text into vector graphics. * Create and open files in the most commonly used formats - PDF, TIFF, JPEG, BMP, EMF, GIF, TGA, PICT, and PCX. * Print the current image and text on the screen (you can choose the printer and print size). * Open and close documents. * Open and save multiple documents. * Extract document metadata (like document names, author, keywords, etc.) and add it to the document metadata in the current folder. * Open and save documents on disk. * Filter files in the folder (like executable files, zip archives, documents, etc.). * Rename files and folders. * Select a large number of files and put them into a folder. * Search a file or folder in the selected folders and subfolders. * Move files and folders. * Put the selected file into an archive. * Change the size of the selected file, including stretching and compression. * Change the properties of the selected file (for example, change the file name, set a comment, set its location, set the encryption, etc.). * Change the properties of the selected folder, including renaming, adding or removing a subfolder, change the encryption of the folder, etc. * Split selected files into multiple files. * Move files into a folder or archive. * Copy files from one location to another. * Copy files into the archive. * Generate a list of files from the selected folder. * Copy the selected file or folder into the clipboard. * Combine selected files into one file. * Unzip an archive. * Zip an archive. * Undelete files. * Open an archive. * Create a new archive (or add to an existing archive). * Add files
