

Viral marketing In 2006, EA promoted FIFA Football via the medium of the Internet, using the Nintendo Wii console's controller. It was launched by a segment of the player base that is Nintendo-savvy and/or had "created" a "PSP_WW" folder on their Wii, and could then access EA's website and download the game. The characters in the game were all over the place, with players who had integrated the game in this way getting the best player models. FIFA World Cup FIFA World Cup, also known as The World Game was the first video game of association football, created in 1968 by Pelé and released in Nintendo's Famicom console. An annual video game of football (soccer), it was developed by Nintendo for the North American market in order to capitalize on the success of the World Cup held in Mexico in 1966. It is the only video game to win the Game of the Year award at the Game Developers Choice Awards. This award was presented at the Game Developers Conference in 1988, where the game's executive producer Shigeru Miyamoto was also awarded for the same achievement. International Football Federation (FIFA) FIFA is a significant association football governing body whose members include the major national football associations of the world. It organizes the FIFA World Cup. The FIFA World Cup was the first video game of association football,

The FIFA franchise is one of EA SPORTS' biggest and best-known properties. The flagship series, FIFA Ultimate Team™ - the in-game mode that lets players develop and manage their very own fantasy team - has over 71 million players in 170 countries. This year marks the 20th anniversary of FIFA and the return of one of the most popular series', FIFA, with FIFA 22. FIFA 22 features a host of new modes, features and improvements, many of which have been designed to enhance the in-game experience and help players achieve their goals in real-world matches. The improved gameplay features include: Card Matchmaking: Following feedback from over 1.6 million FIFA Ultimate Team players, FIFA 22 introduces a new Card Matchmaking Mode that will allow players to create practice games with the same number of cards as in a real match. This mode, which is exclusive to the Ultimate Team mode, will allow players to practise how best to use the cards available to them and help them increase their understanding of the game and develop new strategies and tactics. EA SPORTS FIFA is the industry-leading video game that captures the drama, emotion and excitement of the beautiful game. It has an award-winning career mode, original player motion, dynamic social features and immersive next-generation visuals that allow you to experience the high-stakes world of soccer like never before. World Class Player Motion The number one factor in delivering the FIFA experience for over 10 years now are thousands of animations, clips and scenes that are recreated and recreated again to make your experience look and play like the real thing. FIFA Playmaker and Smart Targeting The players are powered by the FIFA Playmaker engine, a new AI movement based control system that gives players complete freedom and gameplay control in possession. This opens up more options for creative control and gives you greater scope to take risks and go 1v1 while maintaining complete control of your play. Every player has their own specific needs depending on the position they play, so the new decision making module (DMCN) allows the player to decide how they want to play against different defensive and offensive configurations. The DMCN offers a range of tactics options, training drills and useful information that you can use to make the best choices against the other players. The new off the ball system is integral to generating more goals and improving scoring accuracy. Off the ball plays will now determine where to go after giving the ball away, reacting to players and defending structures. You will decide the route ahead and control the speed and angle of your approach. Off the ball play will also allow you to pass diagonally and control the positioning of your players with greater accuracy. Match Day Career • New Football Intelligence engine • "I think of it like having a blockbuster movie; I know the script and I know all the storylines, but I'm still going to enjoy it," says Creative Director, Andrew Borman. "For the first time we have the ability to drop players into a match and play it like a cutscene, dropping the manager to the bench and creating a completely fresh start, not seeing a flashback of a tournament he's played before. That's a new addition that's fun." FIFA Ultimate Team • League management • Analytics & Player growth • Wins & Bonus objectives • Trainers and Hair packs • Hero cards • Watch Filters for Ultimate Team
