Two weeks ago, Konami announced a partnership with Marvel to celebrate the release of Marvel Ultimate Alliance 3. Konami said that it will be adding in superheroes such as Spider-Man, Deadpool and other popular Marvel characters. Earlier this week it was announced that Marvel is adding in some of its own to the game as well. Bizarrely, the announcement states that “Marvel characters from the Marvel Ultimate Alliance and Marvel vs. Capcom series will be included in this expansion.” Oddly, there’s nothing there about what the Marvel game being an addition to the Ultimate Alliance one at all. In the above picture you can see the Marvel vs. Capcom video game, Ultimate Alliance 3 and other games that come with Marvel’s superhero DLC. Even stranger is that the games’ description is wrong. It says “Marvel characters from the Marvel Ultimate Alliance and Marvel vs. Capcom series will be included.” Obviously the error has to do with how the announcement refers to Ultimate Alliance 3. A quick glance at the above picture makes it clear what’s going on. Shame on Konami. Shame on Marvel. More details about Marvel vs. Capcom: Infinite's "Marvel Pack" DLC will be available at the end of the year. [4] Developer: Rockstar North Publisher: Take-Two Interactive Platforms: PS4, Xbox One, PC (Windows) Release: Release Date TBA. In addition to Red Dead Redemption 2, Rockstar Games also announced that Max Payne 3, Grand Theft Auto V and LA Noire are also on the way. 2018 was also a good year for Rockstar’s Red Dead Redemption 2. The game was awarded Game of the Year at The Game Awards as well as Game of the Year at both IGN and Game Informer.
