Saturday, February 19, 2014 9:25:40 PM In India, they are dealing with land reclamation. Means, its a bit different. It is a bit more complex. However, the general concept is same. When you save land from sea, you have to reclaim the sea. (Okay, my apologies, for those, who don't know the meaning of sea in this context.) Similarly, in Terraforming, its Mars, which is more similar to terraforming as it's larger in size. So, I guess its not much difference. Still, I do like to read sci-fi books, which describes the future (in the backdrop of our current lives) of the world. In that sense, I like to read SF/F books. But, in real scenario, our society will not move to another planet. Jasmine: Saturday, February 19, 2014 4:54:17 PM Thanks for the info. This is the first I hear of the Mars Trilogy. I'll check it out. I am a big fan of space and have read many Sci-Fi books. Joe: Tuesday, February 15, 2014 11:20:43 PM Nice to see that I am not the only one that feels this way. I would really like to see a book or 3 on this subject. I don't necessarily want to see this happen, but I would really enjoy reading about it, even if it is fiction. Tekno Mechanicals LTD: Wednesday, February 16, 2014 3:32:52 AM Saving land from sea isn't always as simple as it sounds. In India, they are still dealing with the effects of the
